What We're Doing for COVID-19 at INNER QUEST

INNER QUEST has provided high-quality challenge course and adventure programming since 1979. The COVID-19 pandemic has presented unprecedented challenges for us, like it has for so many others. During the course of this year, we have stayed up to date on the latest recommendations and best practices. Much has changed since February, and will continue to change as more information about the virus becomes known. Following is what to expect on your INNER QUEST adventure.

Health Screening

We are requiring symptom screening and temperature checks to be conducted by you or your organization. Please visit the CDC Symptoms of Coronavirus page for the latest information.

Hygiene

We will provide ample hand washing and/or hand sanitizing before and after each activity.

Social Distancing and Masks

Masks are required for all participants and staff as some activities might place participants at a distance closer than six feet; however a six-foot distance will be maintained as much as possible.

What to Bring

Everyone is required to wear a mask. You may want to bring an extra mask. You can bring a personal hand sanitizer if preferred, although it is not necessary.

We encourage you to ask questions before and during the program.
